FEATURES

Cover it all with 1 license key

Waste no time getting on with your business. Deploy the out-of-the box protection using a single license key, and extend the coverage to all the endpoints almost instantly.

Save vs. Buying separately

We've priced the Packs competitively, with small companies in mind. This means that you get the best of both worlds-protection that covers your needs at a price that does not strain your IT budget.

Combine your security options

No matter the operating system on your computers or smartphones, protect them all. File Server and Endpoint Protection for Windows, macOS, Linux or Android as you need, without wasting a single license.

Always the latest protection

If there is a newer version of the installed products, upgrade for free. You will always have access to the latest technology. New computer in the network? Transfer the license and stay protected.

Manage security efficiently

Freeing up valuable IT resources, you can manage network security from one console. The solution's small system footprint extends lifetime of older machines.

Mail security

Secures company mail traffic with proven detection technology. Protects the whole server -mailboxes and the server environment, no matter the operating system.

Security management ESET PROTECT console

Ensures real-time visibility for all endpoints as well as full reporting and security management for all Oses.

Single pane of glass over all security solutions deployed in the network. Remote management tool that controls endpoint prevention, detection and response layers across all platforms.
